A Message from Our President

The good news is Winter is finally done but the bad news is the yard work is just It's been a busy month (not even counting all the yard work) so I'm sure much to everyone's relief, this month's will be a short presidential message. Or not.

By the time you're reading this, the Fox Chapel (WOOD CARVING ILLUSTRATED) Open House will have come and gone but right now I'm getting together about 160 5-minute owl (also known as the 5-bandaid owl) blanks that we'll be demonstrating there. (We're teaming up with the Lancaster club for this.) The weather should be good so there'll probably be a huge turnout. We should have pictures for the next newsletter.

Speaking of the Lancaster Carvers, immediately following their 2016 show (March 12 & 13, 2016) they will be hosting a 3-day carver roundup. They'll be bringing in four featured carving instructors and students will spend the three full days with one instructor. The instructors are: Bob Stadlander $185/3 days-apx, Cathy Overcash $145/3 days, Dennis and Susan Thorton cost TBD, and our own Jim Hiser $110/3 days. Cathy is a nationally known bark carver, probably one of the best in the country. We are all probably familiar with the rest. Details are still being worked out but Andy DiPace (717-394-2262) is now taking deposits.

If you missed our April meeting, you missed a great program put on by Bill Peoples (of Pennsylvania Gourd Society and Northeast Woodcarving Roundup fame). Everything you could possibly want to know about gourds and gourd carving (gourd growing, gourd cleaning, gourd burning, gourd buying, gourd painting--everything). Bill's doing a class for us in June but unfortunately, it's been long filled up. However, if you still want a gourd class, the Pennsylvania Gourd Society is having its annual festival in Lebanon, June 18, 19, & 20. www.pagourdsociety.org. More classes that you can ever imagine.

Also in April, we had a club table at the Yorkcarvers show. It was a nice show and we finally got a chance to get to know some of their members that we only had a nodding acquaintance with. Plus we got to pass out some fliers for our upcoming show.

Speaking of up our show, it's only a little more than 5 months away. Our next show meeting is at 1:00 Sunday, May 18, 2015—just before our regular meeting. If you would like to help out, you would sure be welcome. Our publicity committee could use an extra hand because right now because this is when we should be getting notices in the carving magazines and other media plus checking our sign inventory. I believe our publicity chairman (Rick Baker) could probably use some assistance in finishing up the CHIP-CHATS article about last year's show that has to be submitted next month. Equally important, we're looking for a show assistant chair to take over some of the show responsibilities from Kyle. (Kyle, if I understand his facebook page correctly, is having Mickey Mouse move in with him around October.)

Don't forget—we're doing the Friendship Cane again this year. The blanks are ready and waiting for your carving so pick one up at the next meeting.

Linda has just about finished up the Jesus at the Gate long term Tuesday night project (the ones I saw look pretty good) so she's ready to get back to her regular schedule. We have some open dates so if you'd like teach a project, let Linda know.
